

I wish to record my strong objection against any change in the present restrictions on media cross-ownership. This would limit public debate which is based upon a free and unrestricted press and broadcast media. Fox news is a demonstration of what results with a constriction of ownership and a slanted editorial bias to its news publications.